

Congressional Record

SEVENTY-FIRST CONGRESS, THIRD SESSION

SENATE

MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1930

The first Monday of December being the day prescribed by the Constitution of the United States for the annual meeting of Congress, the third session of the Seventy-first Congress commenced this day.

The Senate assembled in its Chamber at the Capitol.

CHARLES CURTIS, of Kansas, Vice President of the United States, called the Senate to order at 12 o'clock meridian.

The Chaplain, Rev. Zebarny T. Phillips, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, city of Washington, offered the following prayer:

Eternal Father, whose glory is in all the world, we thank Thee for this day, laden with promise and rich in opportunity arising from the renewal of this fellowship of service. Let Thy fatherly hand be over this Nation; give Thine especial blessing to the President, Vice President, and all in authority over us, that we may dwell secure in peace at home and with all the world. Give to the Members of the Senate implicit trust in Thee for strength and guidance; greatness of heart, that they may touch life wherever lived and make it great; wisdom beyond their wisest thought, transcending human experience, yielded by no human discipline; and integrity of purpose in the face of every task.

May Thy spirit without measure quicken into new life and hope all who are oppressed and overborne with care; may it permeate every sphere of human activity, that truth may banish falsehood and a passion for the common weal consume all dross of unworthy ambition. Let this be to us a day of days, that when the twilight fills the quiet sea's dead face with creeping shadows and the white silence brims the hollow of the hills we may eastward turn and homeward to the rest that shall be ours, saying, "Day that I loved, the night is here, enshrining in its purple folds the splendor of another dawn." Grant this, O Father, for the sake of Him who is the dayspring from on high, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

We bow in humble submission before the throne of the God of our Fathers with the deepest gratitude for the evangels of Thy love and mercy. We thank Thee for that shelter and succor which are far beyond what the world can give. Thou art the source of our fondest aspirations, visions, and dreams. More than ever before do Thou inspire us with the love of justice, with the old-time passion for righteousness, with the old-time sympathy for the oppressed, and with the old American ideals of a better country and a better future. Bring us into a unity of soul and of allegiance to one Lord and one law. With mighty convictions, with mighty surrenders, and with mighty endeavors may we rededicate ourselves at the altars of the Republic, the American toiler, and the American home. O let the resistless undercurrent of our national life move tremendously in favor of sound, substantial government. Thus wilt Thou catch a glorious glimpse of us as the sons of God coming into our true appointed heritage. Do Thou most graciously remember our President, our Speaker, the Members, officers, and pages of this Congress. Finally, Blessed Lord God, may peace, righteous peace, soon lay like a golden shaft across the faces of all lands. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
